“Innovative Structural Systems in Architecture 2025” (ISSA2025)

We kindly invite you to participate in the international scientific conference ISSA2025 organized periodically by our committee, which will take place on November 14-15, 2025 in Wrocław. Previous editions of the conference were organized in the form of international scientific workshops. Detailed organizational data regarding the ISSA2025 conference will be provided at a later date in Announcement No. 2. All forms and current information regarding the ISSA2025 conference will be successively made available in the appropriate tab of the website at the address given below:

<https://issawroclaw.pan.pl>

The thematic scope of this year's, sixth edition of ISSA is very similar to the issues and form of the five previous ones, which took place every two years (2014-2023). The scientific objectives mainly refer to innovative construction systems developed or used in recent years in contemporary architecture, as well as in the renovation of historic buildings.

The official conference languages are English and Polish. In the current conference formula, participation in ISSA2025 is subject to payment.

Accepted conference papers may be published in scientific journal Architectus (70 points).

Conference venue

Lower Silesian Medical Chamber in Wrocław, ul. Kazimierza Wielkiego 45.
